

It was sometime around November of 2016. I noticed her from the end of the store. I thought how gorgeous she looks, then she got closer... I was like eh maybe she's a 7/10 rather than a 9/10. Then I looked again and thought nah she's an 8/10, you know, I could work with that. Introduced myself, heard a minor accent when she spoke, and decided yea, I'll shoot my shot. The rest is history, we started dating officially March 5, 2017. 5 Years have passed and wow, time really does fly.
